

Cause and Effect Graphic Organizer – Neolithic Revolution

Small nomadic bands of hunter-gatherers wanted a more constant food source than hunting for wild animals and foraging for nuts, seeds, fruit, berries, and wild grain.

People learned how to make pottery and could use it to store food for periods of time and to save seeds...they were called Potters

The potters now could

The planter/potters could now stay _____ to harvest _____

With more food they now wanted to get animals to help them and to give them milk and meat so they

Now they had to hunt _____ and spend less time looking for food so they could grow more _____, build small _____ and move less often

As they grew more _____ and tamed more _____ they could support more people. They also had extra crops and animals.

They could _____ the extra crops and animals at markets. These market places became

In the cities

As cities grew larger