Are You a Friend?

(We mean an HSPVA Friend, of course!)

HSPVA Friends is a non-profit organization which has been supporting needs of young people in our community since 1977.

In 1997, it began addressing a myriad of needs of young artists who come from six counties in the Greater Houston Area and attend The High School for the Performing and Visual Arts. It also began supporting unique art projects at Houston's internationally renowned HSPVA.

In the last nine years, HSPVA Friends has provided a significant $3.3 million dollars in support for young artists and special projects at HSPVA, including master classes by guest professional artists, annual scholarships for summer arts workshops and college, art and literary publications, elementary school and middle school arts workshops, music instruments, specialized arts equipment and supplies, participation by students and teachers in national and international arts programs, musical theatre productions, and performances by young artists in professional venues. These are just a few examples of its great support for these young artists.

All funds are carefully supervised by HSPVA Friends' Board of Trustees with input from its fifty member Advisory Board. These boards are comprised of representatives and supporters from the major arts organizations, the Texas Medical Center, Texas colleges and universities, leading corporations, well-respected foundations, HSPVA alumni, faculty and staff, plus parents of present and former HSPVA students. We hope that you will make your donation to The Excellence Fund today.
