now we begin . . . for some, a beginning in milby high . . . for some, just the beginning of a new school year . . . for others, the beginning of the end ahead of us, a year of unborn memories and friends we have not yet met . . .

Genesis: in the beginning we start anew . . .

what is it that makes milby a living, growing thing? people . . . all kinds of people . . .

1972 buffalo staff

top row: editor-in-chief, vickie cunningham; faculty, mary arquette; who's who and favorites, scottie lawson. second row: happenings, bennie liccioni; co-joint ventures, jackie patton and cathy sims. third row: graduates and assistant photographer, janell lundine; middle class, mary murray; underdogs, martha medellin. fourth row: patrons, dan mc carver; artist, charles jetty; photographer, chris kuhlman.

march 28, 1926, was an important date for charles h. milby senior high school. on that day, 13 teachers and 212 students marched down broadway from the harrisburg school to 1601 broadway, the site of the new milby senior high school.

after a great deal of controversy, it was agreed that the school would be named for a prominent man, charles h. milby, who served his community in many official capacities, civic, political, and educational. it was felt that his outstanding contributions to the community entitled him to this honor.

mr. w. i. stevenson was hired as the new principal in the summer of 1925, and served the community well until 1960. at this time mr. roscoe bayless became the principal. after having served the school faithfully for eleven additional years mr. bayless relinquished the reins of the school this past summer of 1971. milby is proud to boast of another outstanding educator in the person of mr. claude h. brinkley, jr. as her new principal.

milby continued to grow from 212 in the spring of 1926 to the present total of 2,073 students. the number of graduates has increased from 35 to the present 677. the number of teachers has correspondingly increased as there were 13 in 1926 and 94 are presently employed at milby . . . yes, onward milby . . .

what is the school, but the students?

the earmarks of the school . . . people, students, teachers, and fun . . . are not the essence of the school, but only the tangible outcome of the perseverance of many men . . . the school is the product of a variety of people . . . rotc, band, coeds, and gbc's... it is instinctive to human nature to band together in societies, tribes, or groups . . . the students will, in turn, reimburse the city by making use of its opportunities and by spending there their talents and abilities . . .

mrs. lyndon (ann) limerick

when all is said and done when we recall the highlights of our years at milby, it will be to our instructors to whom we owe our greatest tributes.

mrs. ann limerick is one of those exceptionally, rare teachers who has related to us as a teacher, friend, and counselor. our insight has been deepened and our knowledge magnified by one who will forever remain outstanding in our memory. when our joys were many or the chips were down, mrs. limerick was always there with an open mind and heart.

words cannot express the gratitude and respect of everyone, past and present, toward a woman who has been teacher, counselor, and confidante.

with thankful hearts, we, the 1972 staff, dedicate the milby buffalo to mrs. ann limerick.

principal claude h. brinkley, jr.

from our principal's pen

to the seniors:

good luck and thank you for a great year. the outstanding leadership you have provided has made this a memorable year.

to the juniors:

to surpass or even equal the senior achievement this year will be a tremendous task. we're looking forward to next year when you will be seniors and are expecting another great year.

to the sophomores:

this sophomore class is one of the best we've had. two more years of hard work and you can be the greatest.

with the fading of summer into fall we witness the abandoning of summer activities to once again enter the challenging doors of learning . . . somewhat frightened and eager sophomores, the confident juniors, and the proud but somewhat sad faces of the seniors flood the mighty halls of ivy to uphold and respect the loyalty of our alma mater . . . milby high.

the faces of milby are many and varied, but they reflect you . . . the student body. yesterday a happy face, today saddened, tomorrow a tearful but eager face meets the world with meek anticipations . . .

"i've shut the door on yesterday, its sorrows and mistakes . . . i've locked within its gloomy walls past failures and heartaches . . . and now i throw the key away to seek another room . . . and furnish it with hope and smiles and every spring-time bloom. no thought shall enter this abode that has a hint of pain . . . and every malice and distrust shall never therein reign . . . i've shut the door on yesterday . . . and thrown the key away . . . tomorrow holds no doubt for me since i have found today."

"there is only one thing for us to do, and that is to do our level best right where we are . . . every day of our lives . . . to use our best judgments . . . and then to trust the rest to that Power which holds the focus of the universe in His hands and which doeth all things well."

the deadline is here! this letter seems to be one of the most difficult assignments i have ever undertaken, for how do you thank all those who have been so valuable. how do you tell thousands of unknown readers that all this effort and these late-night hours have been for them as well?

to those who helped . . . thanks from the bottom of my heart!

mrs. buchan, thanks for all your expert financial advice.

my beautiful, hell-raising staff . . . scottie: you were the perfect one to head the favorites and who's who sections; and because of your hard work, made it a success. bennie: your struggle through the mass-mixture of sports and activities co-ordinated the happenings section beautifully. jackie and cathy: your joint ventures section took a lot of time, but you somehow managed to meet your deadlines. janell: you deserve your weight in quarters for a really cool senior section and your helpful pictures. mary: i hope that you catch up on all your sleep lost because of your junior section. martha: you designed and produced a really great sophomore section; and i can hardly wait to see it. danny: you made a good stab at the index and ad section. chris: you stayed busy all year with your camera. charlie: your art work will tie our jumbled thoughts together and make them one idea. marilyn: thanks for running errands for us. mary: your effort concerning the faculty was appreciated. our very special thanks go to janet and connie for selling ads when you weren't even on the staff . . .

the special people in the main office who put their faith in me when others doubted . . . mr. claude brinkley: you were undoubtedly the real strength behind the undertaking when all seemed lost . . . special friends, such as charles, teri, and sheri, who listened, understood, and endured, and remained just that . . . friends . . . my family; who sacrificed many plans for me and the buffalo.

thank you all . . .

to those who hindered . . . no thanks!

somewhere between these pages i hope that each of you can find himself and relate to what has happened this year at milby . . . from going to drill competitions, band rehearsals, meetings, senior trip projects, surfing, paid assemblys, going to ricci's, horseback riding, working, banquets, and occasionally going to classes . . .

for the staff, it's been quite a year between fun and games, meeting deadlines, selling ads, stamping and cropping pixs, bugging deon priest and maurice williams as well as any number of people, working on layouts, changing triplicates, partying, going to other meetings, going to the park, and trying to remember what we're all here for in the first place . . .

i hope that all has not been in vain. for more than ever this staff has tried to put together a buffalo that will say something to everyone who picks it up now, as well as in the years to come . . .

enjoy it, savor it . . . for 1972 will never come this way again . . . persist!

my very special thanks go to these people. without their help and encouragement the 1972 buffalo would never have gone to press . . . (how about the surprise pix from out of the past?)

a journey of a thousand miles begins with one step ...

may the road rise to meet you, may the wind be always at your back. may the sun shine warm upon your face, the rains fall soft upon your fields. and, until we meet again, may God hold you in the palm of his hand . . .
