

Kim Hines (Registrar) was born a British citizen in the then-colony of Hong Kong, where until age 6 she spoke English, Cantonese, and Mandarin. She and her Mom moved Stateside then, and she was naturalized a citizen of the USA at age 7. Regrettably, the family stopped using the Chinese languages in their home, and the gift of those languages has disappeared. Kim spent her childhood in Lafayette and her youth in southwest Houston. She had friends who attended HSPVA, and she fondly recalls coming to see their productions, most memorably Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dream Coat. Kim holds a Bachelor of Science in psychology from Texas A&M University and earned her teacher certifications from Stephen F. Austin State University. She has taught in small town East Texas high schools since 1998, happily spending 15 of those years as a one-person Theatre faculty. Kim and husband David have one daughter named Riley who is a senior at Texas A&M. As a family they enjoy snow skiing in Colorado and traveling to visit with Kim's international family.
