

Summer Reading Assignment

English 2 Prep and Pre-AP – Westside High School

This summer’s media will be crowded with extraordinary stories of super heroes, galaxy-flying scoundrels, prehistoric beasts and monsters of legend. However, this assignment aims to remind you that inspiration can be found anywhere, especially in the stories of extraordinary, real, people. So, first, you are to choose a memoir (pronounced “MEM-war”) — an autobiographical story in which the author describes events from his or her life and the lessons he or she learned from them. Memoir is a fascinating genre, because anyone can write a memoir: athletes, actors, musicians, artists, dancers, activists, scientists, online content creators (i.e. YouTubers), and many more. Below, we’ve provided a list of popular and powerful memoirs, but feel free to choose any memoir that interests you. During and/or after your reading, complete the assignment below.

Figurative Language Booklet: Create a booklet that outlines your top ten favorite lines from the book that contain figurative language (i.e. simile, metaphor, personification, imagery, hyperbole, allusion, etc.).

Each page will feature a new line, image, and a brief explanation of what it means. Each page must contain:

- The line from the text that contains figurative language
- Visual picture that illustrates the figurative element: hand-drawn (use color!), cut from a magazine, or found electronically
- Identification (label it!) of the literary device used (i.e. personification, imagery, metaphor, simile, etc.)
- 2-4 sentence explanation of the effect this language choice has on the reader (what does it do for us?)

Booklet Format: Using Google Slides or PowerPoint, each page of your booklet is ONE slide of your presentation. Be sure to include all components for the page on the slide.

Due: This assignment will be turned in through the HUB during the first week of school. Instructions will be given by your teacher.
