The Teacher
Mr. Shelton is originally from Bloomfield, CT and has lived in six different states. He attended Hampton University, Central Connecticut State University, and North Carolina A&T State University. He holds a B.A. in History, a B.S. in History Education and graduated Summa Cum Laude. Mr. Shelton has worked in six different school districts and was able to complete his student teaching for DoDD’s in High Wycombe, England. Mr. Shelton has 20 plus years’ experience in the field of education.

Ongoing Objectives
By the end of the course students will become familiarized with Social Science skills (Historiography). These skills, called process standards by TEA, include the following: Analyzing information by sequencing, categorizing, identifying cause-and effect relationships, comparing, contrasting, finding the main idea, summarizing, generalizing, making predictions, drawing inferences and conclusions, and developing connections between historical events over time.

Notebook
You are required to maintain a notebook (digital or hard copy) and will need it.
Assignments
Assignments vary. Some are participatory and others are assessed. It is expected and wise for students to complete all assignments, as assignments prepare you for tests and quizzes and zeros are notorious for bringing a grade average down (do not get a zero on a test, be sure to make it up). Assignments can be turned in late but full credit is less likely. Be sure to check your grades in PowerSchool.

Grading Scale
- Tests/Assessments: 35%
- Classwork: 30%
- Quizzes: 20%
- HW: 15%

Daily Required Materials
- Laptop
- Writing utensil
- Notebook (three ring binder or spiral)

Classroom Management
Students are expected to conduct themselves as young adults. Occasional and common place lapses of judgment will be met with warnings, a conversation or both. It is expected that students heed warnings. Warnings not heeded could result in a consequence. Disrespect, inappropriate behavior, and disruptive behavior will not be tolerated.
