Greetings!

Welcome to August 2021 at Madison High School. I, Khalid Kukoyi, am entering my 17th year teaching at this dynamic school. I am ready and excited for a new school year that will prove to be outstanding. I began my adventures for excitement when I received my Master's Degree in Mathematics from Texas Southern University. I love the field of education so much, that I decided to pass it along to young people to assist them in becoming productive and successful members of society.

This school year, I will be teaching your child either Pre-Calculus, Calculus or Statistics. Since I will teach your child during their senior year, I want to contribute excellence towards their education that will last a lifetime! I am eager to show that mathematics can be fun and useful in everyday life.

My goals for this year are to help your child become an independent thinker and responsible learner. To accomplish these goals, there will be regular assignments and homework. Also, my expectations for your child will be high and they will need to work hard and do their best! I have no doubt that they can do it and will encourage them to do so.

I welcome your feedback if needed and request that you please feel free to contact me at kkukoyi@houstonisd.org should you have concerns regarding your child's progress.

Here's to the best senior year your child will experience!

Respectfully,

Mr. Khalid Kukoyi (KK)
