

Parent and Family Engagement Policy

Emerson Elementary 2023-2024

Emerson Elementary School is committed to the education of the children in our community, to providing the safest learning environment and to preparing our students academically and socially for responsible citizenship in an ethnically diverse society. We believe that the family and the school must work together to ensure that students are successful. Emerson believes in the importance of family and community engagement, and its impact on reaching instructional objectives for our students. We feel parent involvement is an essential piece in ensuring that our students are not only successful in school but also in the development of strong character that will allow them to succeed in life. It is our mission to produce a community of life-long learners.

Further, Emerson is dedicated to developing and improving our relationships with our parents and families by building and sustaining parent engagement. We are committed to the belief that the most successful engagement practices are those that are relational, allow for shared responsibility, linked to learning and build the capacity of parents and families to become advocates in their children's education. It is our pledge to uphold those core foundational values in all family engagement practices at Emerson.

Title I regulations require that each school served under Title I jointly develop with and distribute to parents of participating children, a written parental engagement policy agreed on by the parents that describes the requirements outlined in Title I law. Emerson Elementary agrees to uphold all statutory requirements of section 1116 of the Every Students Successful Act (ESSA)

EMERSON'S FOUR FOUNDATIONS FOR FAMILY ENGAGEMENT

1. Relationship Building Practices

Emerson teachers and staff strongly support foundational practices that allow for the development of trust between the parent/family and the school. Meet the Teacher occurs at the end of August, one week prior to the first day of school. This time allows for students, parents, and teachers to have that introduction to one another. Emerson hosts a variety of school-wide, free events, in order to provide the foundations of a positive relationship between the school and the home, these include, but are not limited to:

- Family Engagement Night
- International Festival

2. Shared Responsibility

The education of a student is not only the responsibility of the teacher, but also of the parent and the child. For this reason, a Parent-Teacher-Student Compact has been developed and is utilized in our school. This document serves as an agreement between all parties that they will adhere to certain duties and responsibilities to ensure the success of the student. It is reviewed and signed by all at the beginning of each foundational subject areas, to provide specific training on how to utilize a variety of activities/strategies at the home that directly can improve their child's achievement. All events are tailored to the needs of our families, providing translation services, teacher led activities from each grade-level, and occur at a flexible time of the day.

Family events directly linked to learning curriculum:

- o Family Literacy Night
- o Family Science Night
- o Academic Parent Teacher Teams (APTT)

Shall, to the extent feasible and appropriate, coordinate and integrate parent involvement programs and activities with community based early learning programs and conduct other activities, such as parent resource centers, that encourage and support parents in more fully participating in the education of their children.

4. Building Capacity for Involvement Leading to Increased Parent Advocacy

School review and improvement involve parents, in an organized, ongoing, and timely way, in the planning, review, and improvement of programs, including planning, review, and improvement of the school parental involvement policy, school- parent compact, and school improvement plan. An organized PTO has been established in our school to create a forum for parental input and involvement. Our PTO affiliation connects our school to parental involvement resources at the state and national level.
