

Compensatory Education Home Instruction

FAQ

COMPENSATORY EDUCATION HOME INSTRUCTION (CEHI)

What is Compensatory Education Home Instruction?

A. CEHI is a homebound service that a student may receive during the prenatal and postpartum periods to help her adjust academically.

When are you eligible to receive CEHI Services?

- A. 1. Day one after you deliver the baby.
2. Any time before you deliver the baby. (Medical documentation is required.)

How can you receive CEHI Services?

- A. Contact the campus nurse or designee:
1. After you deliver the baby.
2. When your pregnancy ends.

What are the requirements to receive CEHI homebound instruction?

- A. 1. A responsible adult (age 18 and over) must be present during each instructional session.
2. The student must reside in a household within the HISD District during instruction.

2023/2024

Compensatory Education Home Instruction

FAQ

How many CEHI hours do you receive each week?

- A. Regular Education Students: Will receive four hours of face-to-face instruction per week.
- B. Special Education Students: Will receive six hours of face-to-face instruction per week.

Core Classes Only

An ARD meeting for the Special Education students must take place indicating the student will receive PRS/CEHI Services before CEHI services are provided.

How will the campus receive my grades and attendance during CEHI Instruction?

- A. The CEHI teacher will submit all grades and attendance weekly to your campus.
- B. You will only be counted “Present” for the days you have face-to-face instruction with the CEHI teacher.

Compensatory Education Home Instruction

FAQ

What CEHI Services are available?

A. 1. Prenatal Confinement: Eligible to receive homebound instruction before you deliver the baby.

(Medical documentation is required.)

2. Postpartum Confinement: Eligible to receive six weeks of homebound instruction after you deliver the baby.

3. Extended Confinement: Eligible to receive an additional four weeks of homebound instruction for a total of ten weeks.

(Medical documentation is required.)

4. Break-In-Service Confinement:

Student Recovery Period/ First Confinement: Eligible to receive six weeks of homebound instruction after you deliver the baby.

(Return to School after the six weeks)

Baby Recovery Period/ Second Confinement: Eligible to receive an additional four weeks of homebound instruction after the baby is released from the hospital.

Medical documentation is required.

This option is designed for student's whose baby remain in the hospital after delivery.

2023/2024