What is Kickboard?

- Kickboard is a digital tool used by teachers and administrators to reinforce positive behavior choices in real time.
- Students can earn or lose points for their behavior choices throughout the school day.
- When a student changes classes, the next teacher and administrators can see that student’s behavior history from the day so far.
- Kickboard shows trends in student behavior for teachers and families.
- Kickboard promotes school-wide consistency in expectations.
Although we hope it goes without saying, Kickboard will only use personally identifiable information from students’ education records to enable school officials and parents to access and use Kickboard.

Your child’s personally identifiable information is encrypted in transit to and from Kickboard. In addition, all personally identifiable information is stored on secure servers behind firewalls by our hosting providers.

Consistent with guidance from the U.S. Department of Education, all the servers used by Kickboard are located in the United States.
Point Summary
• The student’s current point balances for the day, week, and school year.
• If applicable, the bank balance (i.e. how much of the year-long balance the student has left to spend on rewards) is listed as well.

Behavior Log
• A list of the student’s behavior records, including any comments attached to those records by the teacher.
• The name of the staff member who entered each record
• The date and time the behavior was recorded
• The number of points each record is worth

Guiding Questions to Ask Your Child

• How do you think your week went?
• Are you earning more positive behaviors?
• How many points are you trying to earn next week?
• What is your plan to earn more points next week?
• Tell me about what happened when you earned this behavior.
