- Possible Restructuring of Bell Schedule
  - Current Bell Schedule “Strengths”
    - Schedule was changed from 6 instructional periods to 5 with an advocacy period that incorporates SEL interventions. Students have less classes per day, which means they can remain more focused on their subjects. Class sessions are longer, so it gives teachers the time needed to individualize instruction. Teachers have longer planning periods to help develop their curriculum and engaging lessons. Proving coverage for absent teachers will be easier with other teachers available to support when there are emergencies.
  - Clarifying question posed by T. Pitre on ADA implications of new schedule. D. Barragato will utilize TEA and HISD guidance on required minutes
- Other Questions: C. Johnson asked about the date teacher contracts will be sent out. D. Barragato will confirm the dates and process.
