Unit Overview: In this unit, students will explore the characteristics of realistic fiction. Students will develop their reading comprehension skills through the strategy Book, Head, Heart (Beers and Probst). Students will describe the characters, plot, setting, and main events. Also, students will discuss topics, themes, and make predictions and inferences. Students will begin learning and implementing guided reading routines and practices (First 25 Days Reading SLA K–G1, First 25 Days Writing SLA K–G1). As students listen and use mentor texts, they will notice what this genre through the strategy Must Have, Might Have, and Won’t Have (Katie Wood Ray), including its characteristics and author’s craft. As students are exposed to diverse fiction books, they will notice Notice and Name (Wood Ray) the author’s craft, which will be later applied through shared writing. Students will plan drafts in oral and pictorial forms by organizing ideas. Students will add details in pictures or words. Foundational skills such as oral language, word study, and vocabulary are embedded in mini-lessons and the Fluid Literacy Block.

Essential Question: How can we connect literacy to our own life experiences?

Unit Overview: In this unit, students will explore and recognize the structure and characteristics of informational texts such as a central idea, tables of content, graphics, pictures, captions, bold print, and glossary through the strategy Must Have, Might Have, and Won't Have (Katie Wood Ray). Students will explore reading comprehension through the strategy Book, Head, Heart (Beers and Probst). As students are exposed to informational texts, they will Notice and Name (Wood Ray) the author’s craft, which will be later be applied through interactive or independent writing. Also, students will respond to the informational text by dictating or composing a brief composition based on topics of interest that include articles and prior conventions. The teacher will model how to revise a text by adding details using words or pictures. Foundational skills such as oral language, word study, and vocabulary are embedded in mini-lessons and the Fluid Literacy Block.

39 Days
Oct. 21 – Dec. 19, 2019
Guided Reading Level: A–C
DRA Level: 1–4

The recommended number of lessons is less than the number of days in the grading cycle to accommodate differentiated instruction, extended learning time, and assessment days. Complete instructional planning information and support are in the HISD Curriculum documents.

Strand 1: Foundational Language Skills—Self-Sustained Reading
SLA.K.4* Self-select text and interact independently with text for increasing periods of time.

Strand 2: Comprehension Skills
SLA.K.5D Create mental images to deepen understanding with adult assistance.
SLA.K.5G* Evaluate details to determine what is important with adult assistance.
SLA.K.5I Monitor comprehension and make adjustments such as re-reading, using background knowledge, checking for visual cues, and asking questions when understanding breaks down with adult assistance.

Strand 4: Multiple Genres—Genres
SLA.K.8D.i* Recognize characteristics and structures of informational text, including the central idea and supporting evidence with adult assistance.
SLA.K.8D.ii Recognize characteristics and structures of informational text, including titles and simple graphics to gain information.
SLA.K.8D.iii Recognize characteristics and structures of informational text, including the steps in a sequence with adult assistance.

Strand 5: Author’s Purpose and Craft
SLA.K.9C Discuss with adult assistance the author’s use of print and graphic features to achieve specific purpose.
SLA.K.9E Listen to and experience first- and third-person texts.

Strand 6: Composition—Writing Process
SLA.K.10D.iv Edit drafts with adult assistance using standard Spanish conventions, including adjectives, including articles.

Strand 6: Composition—Genres
SLA.K.11B* Dictate or compose informational texts.

Strand 7: Inquiry and Research
SLA.K.12C Gather information from a variety of sources with adult assistance.
SLA.K.12D* Demonstrate and understanding of information gathered with adult assistance.
SLA.K.12E Use and appropriate mode of delivery, whether written, oral, or multimodal, to present results.

Unit 12: Integrated Genres—Investigating My World

Unit Overview: In this unit, students will develop their reading Strand 2: Comprehension Skills through the strategy of Book, Head, Heart (Beers and Probst) to apply their understanding of multiple genres based on the theme of investigating the world around them. Must Have, Might Have, and Won’t Have (Katie Wood Ray) will be used to explore the characteristics and elements of different genres, and will make connections and inferences related the theme or the central idea. As students are exposed to the integrated genres they will Notice and Name (Wood Ray) the author’s craft, which will be later be applied through independent writing. Also, students will respond to the various literary or informational texts by writing either a brief response, personal narrative, or informational composition based on a topic of interest. Students are expected to apply their understanding of grammar conventions, orthographic spelling, capitalization, and punctuation as they follow the writing process. Foundational skills such as oral language, word study, and vocabulary are embedded in mini-lessons and the Fluid Literacy Block.

Essential Question: How can nonfiction texts help us to investigate our world?
