Agenda

New Teacher Appraisal System

Attendance concerns

Minutes

M-TADS: The SDMC committee met to discuss the proposed M-TADS system. The committee agreed that teachers meeting the requirements for the new teacher appraisal system should have the opportunity to be assessed with the instrument. They shared that this is a fair system in that it still measures teacher's effectiveness and hold them accountable for effective instruction. They also so felt strongly about administrators having the option to place teacher back on a full TADS if a need should arise.

Attendance: Our attendance is still a concern. This year we have been above last year's attendance in all but two months. Our attendance officers meet regularly with scholars with three or more absences. We implemented a new strategy before the winter break. After reviewing A4E, it appears to be successful. The number of absences is decreasing.
