Topics of discussion

Safety: there is monthly safety meeting minutes. How can one get onto safety committee? How can teachers be represented?

Some positives about hallway monitoring. Teachers have high approval to how administration dealt with the recent fight in outside commons.

Concern of when school starts at 8:00 student hiding in the nook of library which needs the attention of a possible sweep of the area. Additionally, dinner will not be served for the remainder of 2019 and students must exit the building at 3:30 p.m. unless participating with a club/sport or with a teacher.

Concern of bathrooms being defaced during class time; a thought is that students have been afforded an excessive amount time when they take the restroom pass. It is believed that teachers are also not intentionally attentive to monitor the ten/ten restroom policy. (student may not leave class first ten minutes after tardy bell and may not leave class ten minutes before class ends).

What is the possibility of bringing restroom GPS trackers? This may be a deterrent

Holiday Party:

- We want to have a campus holiday party, but the funding isn't available.
- The thought is for the party to take place off-campus, but the cost is a issue.
- We are open to anyone who may know of a venue that Milby may be able to use at limited cost.
- How much funding is currently available?
- How much is each department willing to contribute?
- Suggestion that the meal takes place at Milby

Duty Posts (Lunch and Passing):

- Make it a point to be in the center of the hallway, this habit has been sliding as of late.
- Teachers are encouraged to be more vocal to student about walking to the right
- Teachers are encouraged to keep moving and to walk and talk
- Suggested that we build this into the Milby routine of announcing ID checks, dress code checks, back pack check.
