Superintendent F. Mike Miles Announces Final List of NES Aligned Campuses

57 additional schools have opted-in to the New Education System of supports for the 23-24 academic year

July 11, 2023 – Superintendent Miles is proud to announce that 57 additional school leaders have opted-in to the New Education System Aligned (NESA) initiative to transform their campuses in the 2023-2024 academic year.

Miles and the HISD Leadership team made the decision to create an option for campuses to voluntarily join the New Education System after several principals who were not included in the initial 28 NES campuses requested the supports at their schools.

“I was pleasantly surprised when several principals embraced whole school systemic reform early and asked to be included in the New Education System,” said Miles. “I am overwhelmingly proud that this many HISD school leaders are ready to take bold action to improve outcomes for all students and eradicate the persistent achievement and opportunity gaps in our district.”

The campuses represent a diverse cross-section of HISD’s campuses. The participating schools represent nearly every feeder pattern and include both schools that have performed well and many schools that have had challenges.

The list includes:

- 36 Elementary Schools
- 10 Middle Schools
- 9 High Schools
- 2 Specialty Schools

“This is one more clear signal that HISD educators are ready for change. They know our children can’t wait, and they want to be able to prepare their students for the workplace and world of 2035,” finished Miles. “As a district we have an obligation to help them do just that.”
