SUBJECT: DISTRICT AND SCHOOL TAKS PERFORMANCE REPORT: SPRING 2010

Attached is a copy of the District and School TAKS Performance Report for Spring 2010. Results from the Texas Assessment of Knowledge and Skills (TAKS) are provided for all students in English and in Spanish, and for all students combined regardless of the language version of the test. The results presented are the scale scores, passing rates and percent commended for Spring 2010 compared to Spring 2009 data, along with performance by student group, and descriptive data on test versions taken.

Some of this year's highlights are as follows.

- In 2010, HISD's reading/English language arts performance at the state passing standard, scores improved from 2009 for four grades. The greatest increase was four percentage points in grades 3, 7, and 10.
- On the 2010 TAKS mathematics test, the percent passing at the state standard improved for all nine grades tested.
- In writing, HISD students matched the state in percent passing at grade 4 and closed the gap at grade 7 to 2 percentage points.
- In 2010, the percentage of HISD students attaining commended status on the TAKS test increased from 2009 in all grades tested on the social studies test and for grades 8 and 10 on the science test. The passing rates increased at all grades for both tests.
- In 2010 on the Spanish TAKS reading test, HISD students in grades 3 through 5 outperformed their state counterparts as measured at the state passing standard and showed improvements in both passing and commended rates.
- In 2010, HISD outperformed the state in grades 3 and 4 and equaled the state in grade 5 for the average scale scores on the Spanish TAKS reading test and in grades 3 through 5 for the average scale score on the mathematics test.

District and School Texas Assessment of Knowledge and Skills (TAKS) Performance, Spring 2010

Introduction

The Student Assessment Division of the Texas Education Agency has provided an overview of testing in the State of Texas. The following information is extensively quoted from their guide “Interpreting Assessment Reports, Spring 2003.” For over twenty years, as required by state statute, Texas assessed minimum basic skills in reading, mathematics, and writing, first with the Texas Assessment of Basic Skills (TABS) tests (1980–1984) and then with the Texas Educational Assessment of Minimum Skills (TEAMS) examinations (1985–1989). Changes in state law required a new expanded criterion-referenced program, the Texas Assessment of Academic Skills (TAAS), be administered from the fall of 1990 to the spring of 2002, and a high school course-specific assessment system, the Texas end-of-course exams, be administered from the spring of 1994 to the spring of 2002. Recent changes in state law required a new expanded criterion-referenced program, the Texas Assessment of Knowledge and Skills (TAKS) beginning in the spring of 2003.

TAKS is a completely reconceived testing program. It includes more of the state curriculum, the Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills (TEKS), than TAAS did and asks questions in more authentic ways. The connection between the state curriculum, the TEKS, and the TAKS program has been strengthened so that students, schools, parents, and the general public receive meaningful information about what Texas students know and are able to do.

Administration of the TAKS Examination to HISD Students

The TAKS Examination schedule (Table 1) lists the various subtests administered districtwide during the spring of 2010.

Subject/Subtest	Grade Level	Date Administered
Writing	4, 4 Spanish, 7	March 3, 2010
English/Language Arts	10, 11	March 3, 2010
Reading	9	March 3, 2010
Mathematics	5, 5 Spanish, 8	April 6, 2010
Reading	5, 5 Spanish, 8	April 7, 2010
Mathematics	3–4, 3–4 Spanish, 6–7, 10	April 27, 2010
Reading	3–4, 3–4 Spanish, 6–7	April 28, 2010
Mathematics	11	April 28, 2010
Science	5, 5 Spanish, 8, 10–11	April 29, 2010
Mathematics	9	April 29, 2010
Social Studies	8, 10–11	April 30, 2010

Analysis of TAKS Examination Results

Results for grades 3–11 from the English TAKS for reading and mathematics; writing grades 4 and 7; science grades 5, 8, 10, and 11; and social studies grades 8, 10 and 11 were examined in this report. Similarly, results for grades 3–5 from the Spanish TAKS for reading and mathematics, grade 4 for writing, and grade 5 for science are provided. All students are required to take the TAKS test with two exceptions: 1) students required to take the TAAS test to meet their graduation requirement; and 2) those who are exempt from it and are tested on an alternate instrument as dictated by their Individual Education Plan (IEP). Grades five and eight reading tests had three separate test administrations in 2010 due to the state's Student Success Initiative: April 7, May 19 (students not previously passing), and June 30 (students not previously passing). Grades 5 and 8 mathematics also had three administrations: April 6, May 18, and June 29. The TAKS reading and math results for grades five and eight reported in this report reflect the first administration. Districtwide results were compared to statewide performance for all students on both the English and Spanish versions of the TAKS. For comparison purposes, two years of data were reported.

In November of 2002, the Texas State Board of Education approved the passing standards for the TAKS test in grades 3–11 recommended by a panel of experts. As such, the State Board adopted a three-year transitional phase-in process. The proposed process employs the use of the standard error of measurement (SEM) to phase in the standards over the three-year period. According to the definitions provided by the Texas Education Agency, the meaning of SEM is as follows: If a single student were to take the same test repeatedly (with no new learning taking place between testing and no memory of question effects), the standard deviation of his/her repeated test scores is denoted as the standard error of measurement. As of 2008, the passing standards for all subjects and grade levels were at the panel recommended level. For Exit-level retesters, the passing standard is set at the state passing standard when the students were in tenth grade.

The TEA Code, Section 39.03, required the development of a vertical scale to assess student performance on the Texas Assessment of Knowledge and Skills (TAKS) in reading and mathematics in grades 3–8. During the 2009 academic year, vertical scales were provided on the Confidential Student Reports (CSR). Starting in 2010, vertical scales will be the only scale provided for grades 3–8 in the subjects of reading and mathematics. These scale scores range from 0-1000 and allow users to chart progress from grade to grade. Vertical scale scores from different subjects and language versions can not be compared. All other grades and subjects will continue using the same horizontal scale that has been used in the past. Those results are reported as percent “met standard,” which corresponds to a scale score of 2100 and the percent “commended,” which is a scale score of 2400. As in 2009, the 2010 results from Special Education students who took the TAKS (Accommodated) [TAKS-A] are included in the overall results. Additional changes to the state assessment program for 2009–2010 involve the inclusion of results from students taking the Linguistically Accommodated Tests (LAT); Spanish TAKS is no longer given at the sixth grade; and there is only one administration of the third grade reading TAKS; and

A section of tables and figures comparing the met standard and commended performance data for HISD and the state is included in this report. Information at the district level was also categorized by race/ethnicity for Asian Americans, African Americans, Hispanics, and Whites as well as economically disadvantaged. Furthermore, the campus-level section of this report provides data for all students tested in English, all students tested in Spanish, and a summary section for all students who took the TAKS regardless of language version.

Starting in the spring of 2008, the Texas Education Agency unveiled its complete testing program centered around the philosophy of ensuring that all students are tested on an appropriate measure. The test version options include: the Texas Assessment of Knowledge and Skills (TAKS), TAKS-Accommodated (TAKS-A), TAKS-Modified (TAKS-M), TAKS-Alternate (TAKS-ALT), and TAKS-LAT (Linguistically Accommodated Testing). Included in this report are the total number of students tested in Reading/ELA and Mathematics and the numbers and percents of students tested on each of the available test versions. The information presented combines students who tested in English and Spanish and is derived from the information provided on each answer document submitted by the individual campuses.

State and HISD Comparison Results

English TAKS Results for All Students

The state TAKS exam results for students who took the English version were compared to HISD districtwide results for grades 3–11. This process also included a comparison of state and HISD results in all of the TAKS content areas. The data analyzed in this section include results from both non-Special Education and Special Education students. The information regarding the HISD and state comparisons for reading, mathematics, writing, science, social studies, and all tests taken is presented in Tables 2–6. The percent meeting the TAKS passing standard and the percent earning the commended status are included in the analysis. Comparisons between 2009 and 2010 results for the average scale scores for grades 3–8 cannot be made in reading and math due to the use of the new vertical scale. Also, the state only provided district results not statewide results for 2009 using the vertical scale, so the 2009 results are presented with the horizontal scale scores that were in use in 2009. The 2009 and 2010 results for grades five and eight reading and math are from the first administration.

Reading

State and HISD reading (grades 3–9) and English Language Arts (grades 10 and 11) results on the English version of the TAKS from 2009 and 2010 were examined. The results from a comparative analysis of these data are presented in Table 2.

11	HISD	90	26	2280	90	24	2279
	State	92	31	2300	93	32	2308

- On the 2010 TAKS reading/English Language Arts tests, the state outperformed HISD in all grades at all levels of comparison.

- A gap analysis of the percent passing the 2010 TAKS reading test results between the state and HISD revealed the largest difference of five percentage points for grades four and six while the smallest gaps in 2010 were at grades three, ten, and eleven with a three-percentage-point difference. The district closed the gap with the state in 2009 at grades three, seven, nine, and ten.
- In reviewing the HISD results for the 2010 TAKS reading/English Language Arts tests, eleventh graders outperformed all other grades with 90 percent of the students meeting the TAKS passing standard.
- When comparing the district’s passing rates from 2009 to 2010 at the state passing standard, scores improved for four grades. The greatest increase was four percentage points in grades three, seven, and ten.
- In terms of students earning the commended status on the 2010 TAKS reading/English Language Arts tests, the state reported a range of 16 percent commended in grade 10 to 46 percent commended in grades three and eight. HISD reported a range of 13 percent commended in grade 10 to 43 percent commended in grade three.
- In reviewing the 2010 HISD results for students who attained commended status, there were increases from 2009 in three grades on the reading/English Language Arts TAKS.

Mathematics

State and HISD mathematics results on the English version of the TAKS for 2009 and 2010 were examined. The results from a comparative analysis of these data are presented in Table 3.

11	HISD	80	26	2255	87	22	2258
	State	81	28	2264	89	25	2273

- On the 2010 TAKS mathematics test, the state outperformed HISD at all grades on all measures of comparison.
- A gap analysis of the percent passing the 2010 TAKS mathematics test results between the state and HISD revealed the largest difference of six percentage points at grades nine and ten, while the smallest gaps in 2010 were at grades four and five with a one-percentage point difference. The district closed the gap with the state in 2010 in grades six through ten.
- For the spring 2010 TAKS mathematics test, the state's scores at the passing standard ranged from 70 percent for ninth grade to 89 percent for eleventh grade. HISD scores at this same standard ranged from 64 percent for grade nine to 87 percent for grades four and eleven.
- When comparing the district's passing rates from 2009 to 2010 at the state passing standard, scores improved for all nine grades tested.
- Grade five for the state and for HISD reported the greatest percentage of commended students on the mathematics test with 42 percent and 40 percent commended, respectively.
- In reviewing the 2010 HISD results for students who attained commended status, there were increases from 2009 in grades seven through ten, with the largest increase reported for grade seven, at four percentage points.

Writing

State and HISD writing results on the English version of the TAKS for 2009 and 2010 were examined. The results from a comparative analysis of these data are presented in Table 4.

Table 4: State and HISD English TAKS Results in Writing for All Students (Grades 4 and 7): Spring 2009 and 2010

Grade	District/ Texas	2009			2010
		Percent Passing	Percent Commend	Avg. Scale Score	Percent Passing	Percent Commend	Avg. Scale Score
4	HISD	91	30	2377	92	25	2333
	State	91	32	2379	92	29	2343
7	HISD	88	25	2315	93	32	2352
	State	93	34	2362	95	36	2385

- For the spring 2010 TAKS writing test, the state outperformed HISD on the percent commended and average scale score in both fourth and seventh grades and on the percent passing for grade seven. HISD fourth grade percent passing matched that of the state in 2010 at 92 percent.
- From 2009 to 2010, performance gaps on the TAKS writing test increased between HISD fourth graders and state fourth graders on the percent commended and average scale score, and gaps decreased between district and state seventh graders on all three performance measures.

- In terms of commended students, the state reported 29 percent and 36 percent commended for fourth and seventh graders, respectively, while HISD reported 25 percent commended for fourth graders and 32 percent for seventh graders.
- In reviewing the 2010 results for the average scale score on the TAKS writing test, both HISD and state fourth graders reported decreases from 2009 to 2010, while both groups of seventh graders improved over the same time period.

Science and Social Studies

State and HISD results on the English version of the TAKS for science and social studies for 2009 and 2010 were examined. The results from a comparative analysis of these data are presented in Table 5.

Table 5: State and HISD English TAKS Results in Science (Grades 5, 8, 10, 11) and in Social Studies (Grades 8, 10, 11) for All Students: Spring 2009 and 2010

	State	97	48	2384	98	54	2395

- For the spring 2010 TAKS science test, the state outperformed the HISD at all grade levels and for all measures of comparison although district students showed progress in closing the gaps at grades eight and ten. The percent meeting the state passing standard ranged from 74 percent to 91 percent for the state and 66 percent to 89 percent for HISD.
- Grade five for the state and HISD reported the greatest percentage of commended students on the science test with 44 percent and 41 percent commended, respectively.
- For the spring 2010 TAKS social studies test, the state outperformed HISD on all levels of comparison. Nevertheless, HISD students are showing a performance gap with the state of only one to three percentage points. The percent meeting the state passing standard ranged from 93 to 98 percent for the state and 90 to 97 percent for the district.

- Grade eleven for the state and HISD reported the greatest percentage of commended students on the social studies test with 54 percent and 50 percent commended, respectively.
- In reviewing the 2010 HISD results for students who attained commended status, there were increases from 2009 in all grades tested on the social studies test and for grades eight and ten on the science test.
- In 2010, the state outperformed HISD for all grade levels when reviewing the average scale scores on the TAKS science and social studies tests; although the district's average scale scores improved on both tests at all grades.

All Tests Taken

State and HISD results on the English version of the TAKS for all tests taken at each grade for 2009 and 2010 were examined. The results from a comparative analysis of these data are presented in Table 6. All tests taken cannot be calculated for grades with multiple administrations.

11	HISD	72	9	79	7
	State	75	10	82	9

Note: Results for grades three (in 2009), five, and eight not available.

- For the spring 2010 TAKS on All Tests Taken, the state outperformed HISD at all grade levels in the percent passing and the percent commended. Nevertheless, the district continued to close the gap with the state at grades 6 through 10 for the percent passing and at grades 6, 7, and 10 for the percent commended.
- Grade 3 for the state reported the highest percentage of students passing at the state passing standard with 83 percent passing for the state, while HISD third and eleventh graders reported the highest passing rates with 79 percent passing all tests taken.
- In reviewing the 2010 HISD results for the percent passing, there were increases from 2009 in five grades for which All Tests Taken is reported.

- The highest percentage of commended students for All Tests Taken for HISD was at grade 3, which reported 22 percent commended. The percentage of commended students for the same measure ranged from 6 percent to 25 percent for the state and from 5 percent to 22 percent commended for HISD.

Spanish TAKS Results for All Students

The TAKS exam results for students who took the Spanish version statewide were compared to HISD districtwide results for grades three through five. The test is no longer being administered in grade six. The data analyzed in this section include results for all students for the percent passing, the percent commended, and the average scale score. Comparisons between 2009 and 2010 results for the average scale scores for grades three through five cannot be made in reading and math due to the use of the new vertical scale. Also, the state only provided district results not statewide results for 2009 using the vertical scale, so the 2009 results are presented with the horizontal scale scores that were in use in 2009. The information regarding the HISD and state comparisons for reading, mathematics, writing, and science is presented in the next few sections.

Reading and Mathematics

State and HISD reading and mathematics results on the Spanish version of the TAKS for 2009 and 2010 were examined. The results from a comparative analysis of these data are presented in Table 7.

- In 2010 on the Spanish TAKS reading test, HISD students in grades three through five outperformed their state counterparts as measured at the state passing standard. HISD third graders reported 90 percent meeting the TAKS state passing standard in reading compared to 85 percent for the state.
- In terms of commended status, HISD third graders reported 48 percent commended in reading, while HISD fourth graders reported the highest percentage of commended students in mathematics at 44 percent.
- Compared to 2009, HISD students showed improvements at all three grade levels in reading for both passing and commended rate on the Spanish TAKS.
- In grades three through five, HISD students outperformed their state counterparts on the Spanish TAKS mathematics test for the percent passing at the state standard.
- In reviewing the 2010 HISD results for students who attained commended status, there were increases from 2009 for students in grades three and five on the mathematics test.
- In 2010, HISD outperformed the state in grades three and four and equaled the state in grade five for the average scale scores on the Spanish TAKS reading test and in grades three through five for the average scale score on the mathematics test.

Writing and Science

State and HISD writing results on the Spanish version of the TAKS for 2009 and 2010 were examined for the fourth grade writing and fifth grade science tests. The results from a comparative analysis of these data are presented in Table 8.

- In 2010 on the Spanish TAKS writing test, HISD students outperformed their state counterparts with fourth graders reporting 96 percent meeting the state passing standard compared to 94 percent for the state. HISD fifth-grade students reported a 43 percent passing rate in science, while their state counterparts reported 51 percent passing.
- HISD fourth graders outscored their state counterparts in the percentage of commended students on the Spanish TAKS at 43 percent on the writing test compared to 32 percent for the state and on the TAKS science test at 17 percent compared to 13 percent for the state.

- In reviewing the 2010 HISD results for students who attained commended status, there was an increase from 2009 for grade 5 on the science test, from 10 percent to 17 percent.
- In 2010, HISD outperformed the state when reviewing the average scale scores on the Spanish TAKS writing test.

All Tests Taken

State and HISD results for All Tests Taken on the Spanish version of the TAKS for 2009 and 2010 were examined. The results from a comparative analysis of these data are presented in Table 9. All tests taken cannot be calculated for grades with multiple administrations of any subject.

Note: Results for grades three (in 2009) and five not available.

- In 2010 on the Spanish TAKS test, HISD students outperformed their state counterparts on the percent passing and the percent commended on All Tests Taken for both grades for which All Tests Taken is reported.
- In 2010 HISD third graders reported 79 percent passing and 26 percent commended on All Tests Taken on the Spanish TAKS, compared with 74 percent and 24 percent for the state, respectively.
- HISD fourth graders reported 77 percent passing and 20 percent commended on All Tests Taken on the Spanish TAKS, compared with 73 percent and 14 percent for the state, respectively. These rates are an improvement from 2009.

HISD Subgroup TAKS Results

All Students in Grades 3–11

In the following sections, the results from the spring 2008–2010 administrations of the English TAKS examination are reported for all HISD students by grade (3–11) and by student group for all tested subjects. Results from Special Education students who took the TAKS-Accommodated are included in the TAKS results.

Grade 3 Performance

The percentages of HISD students in grade 3 who met the state passing standards for 2008 through 2010 on the TAKS in reading, mathematics, and All Tests Taken were summarized in Table 10. The percentages of students who earned the commended status are reported as well.

- On the spring 2010 TAKS reading test, HISD third graders in all student groups reported an increase in the percent passing at the state standard from 2009, and all students groups except for the White student group increased in the percent reaching the commended status over the same time period.
- HISD third graders in all student groups except for the White student group reported increases from 2009 in the percent meeting the passing standard on the mathematics TAKS in 2010. Students in all student groups reported decreases in 2010 in the percent reaching the commended level from the 2009 TAKS.

Grade 4 Performance

The percentages of HISD students in grade four who met the state passing standard and commended standard on the TAKS reading, mathematics, and writing tests and on All Tests Taken, for 2008 through 2010 were summarized and are presented by student group in Table 11.

- From 2009 to 2010, HISD fourth graders in the African American, White, and special education student groups reported increases in the percent passing, and all student groups either remained constant or reported decreases in the percent commended on the TAKS reading test.

- On the spring 2010 TAKS mathematics test, HISD students in grade four maintained or reported increases over 2009 in the percent meeting the state passing standard for all students groups except for the White student group, and all student groups either remained constant or reported decreases in the percent reaching commended status.
- HISD fourth graders in all student groups, except for the White student group, maintained or made gains in the percent passing on the writing TAKS from 2009 to 2010. Students in the LEP student group reported an increase in the percent reaching the commended level from 2009 to 2010.
- From 2009 to 2010, HISD fourth graders in the Hispanic, LEP, and special education student groups reported increases in the percent passing, and students in the LEP student group increased in the percent commended on the TAKS All Tests Taken.

- On the spring 2010 TAKS reading test, HISD students in grade 5 in all student groups reported increases or constant performance from 2009 in the percent meeting the state passing standard. Students in all students groups reported increases or remained the same in the percent reaching commended status in 2010. Increases for both measures ranged from one to six percentage points.
- HISD fifth graders in all student groups increased the percent meeting the state passing standard and decreased the percent attaining commended status on the mathematics TAKS from 2009 to 2010. Gains in the percent passing ranged from one to three percentage points, and decreases in the percent commended ranged from one to seven percentage points.
- On the spring 2010 TAKS science test, HISD students in grade 5 reported increases or constant performance from 2009 in the percent meeting the state passing standard, and all groups reported decreases or constant performance in the percent reaching commended status. The greatest gain in the percent passing was for African American students at four percentage points, and the greatest decrease in the percent commended was six percentage points for special education students.

Grade 6 Performance

The percentages of HISD students in grade 6 who met the state passing standards for 2008 through 2010 on the TAKS in reading, mathematics, and on All Tests Taken were summarized and presented by student group in Table 13. The percentages of students who earned the commended status are reported as well.

- On the spring 2010 TAKS reading test, students in all student groups reported a decline in the percent passing at the state passing standard and the percent reaching commended status from 2009, with decreases on both measures ranging from one to 12 percentage points. On the 2010 TAKS mathematics test, HISD students in grade 6 reported increases over 2009 in the percent meeting the state passing standard, with Hispanic and LEP students gaining by seven percentage points each. All student groups reported decreases in the percent reaching commended status ranging from one to eight percentage points.
- From 2009 to 2010, HISD sixth graders in all student groups except for LEP students reported increases or remained constant in the percent passing on the TAKS All Tests Taken. All students groups reported decreases or remained constant in the percent commended on the TAKS All Tests Taken over the same time period.

Grade 7 Performance

The percentages of HISD students in grade 7 who met the state passing standard and commended standard on the TAKS reading, mathematics, and writing tests and on All Tests Taken, for 2008 through 2010 were summarized and are presented by student group in Table 14.

- On the spring 2010 TAKS reading test, HISD students in grade 7 reported increases or consistent performance from 2009 in the percent meeting the passing standard for students in all student groups. On the 2010 TAKS mathematics test, students in all student groups reported increases or remained the same from 2009 in both the percent passing and the percent reaching commended status. Gains on both measures in mathematics ranged from one to 12 percentage points.
- From 2009 to 2010, HISD seventh graders in all student groups, experienced increases or remained the same on the percent passing and the percent commended for the TAKS writing test and on All Tests Taken, except for special education students who dropped four percentage points on the All Tests Taken measure.

Grade 8 Performance

The percentages of HISD students in grade 8 who passed the state standard on the reading, mathematics, social studies, and science TAKS and the percentages that achieved the commended status for 2008 through 2010 were summarized. The results for all students and by student groups are presented in Table 15. Results are reported for the first administration only.

- On the spring 2010 TAKS reading test, HISD students in grade 8 reported decreases or remained the same from 2009 in the percent passing and the percent reaching commended status for students in all student groups, except for special education students, whose percent commended increased by one percentage point over the same time period.

- From 2009 to 2010, HISD eighth graders reported increases or constant performance in the percent meeting the state passing standard and the percent reaching commended status on the TAKS mathematics test for students in all student groups, except for White students, whose percents passing and commended decreased two percentage points. Gains for both measures ranged from one to six percentage points.
- On the 2010 TAKS science and social studies tests, HISD eighth graders reported gains or constant performance from 2009 for students in all student groups on the percent meeting the state passing standard and the percent commended, except for the White student group, whose commended performance on the science TAKS remained the same as in 2009, and whose percent passing decreased in both subjects. LEP students gained 17 percentage points in the percent passing the social studies test and 13 percentage points in the percent passing the science test.

Grade 9 Performance

The percentages of HISD students in grade 9 who met the state passing standards for 2008 through 2010 on the TAKS in reading, mathematics, and on All Tests Taken were summarized in Table 16. The percentages of students who earned the commended status and results for all students by student group are presented as well.

- On the spring 2010 TAKS reading and mathematics tests, HISD students in grade 9 reported increases or consistent performance from 2009 in the percent passing and percent commended for students in all student groups. Gains for both measures in reading ranged from one to 20 points and gains for both measures in mathematics ranged from one to 15 percentage points. The greatest gains in the percent passing in both subjects were recorded by students in the LEP student group.
- From 2009 to 2010, performance for HISD ninth graders in all student groups increased or remained the same in the percent passing and on the percent commended on the All Tests Taken measure. Gains in the percent passing measure ranged from four to 11 percentage points.

Grade 10 Performance

The percentages of HISD students in grade 10 who met the state standard on English/language arts, mathematics, social studies, science, and for All Tests Taken on the 2008 through 2010 TAKS and the percentages that achieved the commended status were summarized. The results for all students and by student groups are presented in Table 17.

- On the 2010 TAKS English/language arts test, HISD tenth graders reported gains over 2009 for students in all student groups on the percent meeting the state passing standard. White students gained one percentage point in the percent reaching commended performance, while all other student groups reported decreases or constant performance on the same measure. From 2009 to 2010 on the TAKS mathematics test, students in all student groups experienced increases or remained the same in the percent meeting the state passing standard and on the percent commended on the mathematics test. Gains for both measures in mathematics ranged from one to 12 percentage points.
- For HISD tenth graders on the 2010 TAKS social studies and science tests, students in all student groups reported increases or remained the same from 2009 in the percent meeting the state passing standard and in the percent attaining commended status, with gains on both measures in social studies ranging from one to 11 percentage points and gains on both measures in science ranging from one to 13 percentage points.
- From 2009 to 2010, performance for HISD tenth graders in all student groups increased or remained the same in the percent passing and on the percent commended on the All Tests Taken measure. Gains in the percent passing measure ranged from one to 13 percentage points.

- On the 2010 Exit-level TAKS English/language arts and mathematics tests, HISD eleventh graders reported gains or remained constant from 2009 for students in all student groups on the percent meeting the passing standard, with 90 percent of all students meeting the state passing standard in English/language arts and 87 percent meeting the standard in mathematics. All student groups reported decreases or remained constant from 2009 to 2010 in the percent reaching commended status on both tests, except for the White student group who increased the percent commended in ELA by four percentage points.

- From 2009 to 2010, HISD eleventh graders reported increases in the percent meeting the state passing standard and the percent reaching commended status on the TAKS social studies test and in the percent passing on the science test. Gains for both measures in social studies ranged from one to 12 percentage points. For all student groups, the percent reaching commended status decreased on the science test from 2009 to 2010.
- On the 2010 Exit-level TAKS All Tests Taken measure, HISD eleventh graders reported gains over 2009 for students in all student groups tested, with African American students reporting an increase of ten percentage points for the percent meeting the state passing standard. For the Exit-level All Tests Taken measure, all student groups assessed reported decreases or constant performance in the percent achieving commended status from 2009 to 2010.

Test Version Taken at the District-Level

The state has developed and administers different versions of the TAKS test based upon students' instructional setting, including the TAKS (Accommodated), TAKS-Alternate (TAKS-Alt), TAKS-Modified (TAKS-M), and the TAKS-LAT. The TAKS (Accommodated) form includes some format accommodations such as larger font and fewer test items per page. The TAKS-Alt is an assessment based on alternate academic achievement standards and is designed for students with significant cognitive disabilities who meet the participation requirements. The TAKS-M is an alternate assessment based on modified academic achievement standards for students receiving special education services who meet eligibility criteria. The TAKS-LAT (Linguistically Accommodated Testing) is a special administration of TAKS for LEP-exempt recent immigrants. LAT administrations are provided in designated grades and subjects.

A count and a descriptive analysis of the number of HISD students tested on the different versions of the TAKS, including TAKS, TAKS-Accommodated, TAKS Modified, TAKS-LAT, and TAKS-Alternate, were summarized for the 2010 TAKS examination for grades 3–11. The districtwide results for reading/English language arts are presented in Table 19.

- The number of HISD students tested on state reading/English language arts TAKS assessments in 2010 was 117,674; 107,135 of whom were tested on TAKS. The percent of students tested on the TAKS ranged from a low of 89.2 in grade 8 to a high of 93.2 in grade 3. In 2010, 3,310 students took the TAKS-Accommodated, 5,908 took the TAKS-Modified, 97 took the TAKS-LAT, and 1,224 took the TAKS-Alternate.

Table 20 presents a count and a descriptive analysis of the number of HISD students tested on the different versions of the TAKS, including TAKS, TAKS-Accommodated, TAKS Modified, TAKS-LAT, and TAKS-Alternate, for the 2010 TAKS mathematics examination for grades 3–11.
